SwampHacks XII

University of Florida | Gainesville, FL | October 16th-18th, 2026

xii.swamphacks.com | contact@swamphacks.com

Date: October 22, 2026

Verification of Official Judging Service – SwampHacks XII

To Whom It May Concern,

On behalf of the SwampHacks XII organizing team, I am writing to formally confirm that Jayakumar Ramalingam was selected and served as an Official Judge at SwampHacks XII, held at the J. Wayne Retiz Union at the University of Florida. Judging responsibilities were performed on October 18, 2026.

Judges were selected based on their professional expertise and qualifications, with limited positions available on the judging panel. Their contributions were essential to evaluating innovative projects developed by participants throughout the hackathon.

SwampHacks is the University of Florida's flagship hackathon and a Major League Hacking (MLH) member event. SwampHacks XII brought together more than 500 participants and featured more than 140 submitted projects.

As part of the official judging process, judges evaluated participant projects using established criteria, including Innovation and Creativity, Technical Understanding, Functionality, Design and Usability, and Purpose and Audience. Evaluations and feedback were submitted through the event's official judging platform, Jury, helping recognize outstanding projects and achievements.

This letter serves as official verification of Jayakumar Ramalingam's attendance, participation, and completion of judging responsibilities at SwampHacks XII on October 18, 2026. Should additional verification or documentation be required, please feel free to contact me at the email address provided below.

Sincerely,

Kian Hidalgo
SwampHacks XII Logistics & Operations Team
Judging & Awards Coordinator
University of Florida
kian.hidalgo@ufl.edu

